Rebellion in Korea--Jap Troops Are Driven Out

SHERIFF TOOK CHARGE AFTER FIRST TROUBLE

Shots Fired From Mexican Quarters at Laborers.

About 60 employees at the Sandusky Cement plant east of the city went on strike this morning for increased wages and for a time the lives of other employees at the plant were in danger when at the hour of going to work several shots were fired from the Mexican quarters at them. At 10 o'clock Sheriff Frank Schoenholz was appealed to and went to the cement plant where he conducted an investigation into conditions.

It was reported to him that the strikers consisting of Hungarians, Mexicans, Italians and negroes had refused to go to work, asking for an increase to 50 cents an hour and time and a half for overtime or Sunday work. They have been receiving 40 cents an hour and a bonus of 10 per cent, it was reported.

Deputies Are Posted. The strikers refused to resume their work and remained within their quarters. It was feared that the lives of other employees at the plant would be endangered by the firing of shots from the quarters and the sheriff immediately placed a force of deputies on the scene to prevent any possible fatalities or destruction of property. The strike is said to have been growing for some time, but not until this morning had the foreigners refused to go to work.

The strikers were quiet during the day, remaining for the most part in their quarters. The plant is experiencing its rush season just at this time and every effort will be made to prevent the loss of life or possible destruction of property.

ASH PILES IN CITY STREETS BRING KICKS

The dumping of ashes in the streets of the city has been a cause of no small amount of complaint to the police and members of the city council. One objector complained that the west end of the city resembled a prairie dog town with ash heaps in the streets. Another objector who drove his automobile straddle of one of the ash piles, damaged his car and accordingly on Saturday afternoon the police went to the west end of the city to investigate conditions.

Chief VanBibber stated that the objections were well founded and many were warned against dumping the ashes in the streets. The chief announced this morning that no more warnings would be issued but that prosecutions would follow as this practice is in strict violation of the city ordinances.

WERREN SAYS FLU DANGER IN DIXON IS OVER

However, He Asks Compliance with Regulations.

The strict observance of state and federal rulings on influenza quarantine is urged by Dr. J. B. Werren, city health physician, who announced this morning that from reports he believed that the epidemic was on the decline in Dixon. There appears to have been some misunderstanding of the ruling applied to the quarantining of influenza, la grippe and pneumonia.

The law provides that the patient must be isolated in one part of the house, together with the nurse or attendant, and only those who come in contact with the patient are prevented from leaving the house. Children in all cases are not to be allowed to attend the schools, but are not required to remain in the house. Provided that the head of the family does not come in contact with the patient, he is permitted to go and come to and from his employment.

WILSON TRIES TO BLOCK MOVE AGAINST U.M.T.

Asks Party Leaders to Take No Action at Their Caucus.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—President Wilson opposes the plan to have the democratic members of the house at their caucus tonight make an issue of universal military training. The president's views are set forth in a letter to Secretary Baker, transmitted today to democratic leaders in the house. Mr. Wilson says it would be "unfortunate to make a party issue on this subject, particularly since within a few months the party will assemble in convention and declare the principles upon which it deems it wise to commit itself in a national election."

The president says the disturbed state of the world "does not permit such sureness with regard to America's obligations as to allow us lightly to decide upon this great question upon purely military grounds." He recalls that he gave his approval in principle to the various "very moderate" training projects suggested by the general staff and expresses "his strong feeling" against action by the caucus which would tend "to interpose an arbitrary party determination to the consideration of which subject should receive from the best thought of the members of the house."

Newberry Trial is Behind Its Schedule

YOUTH PASSED 14 BOGUS CHECKS IN DIXON; IS IN JAIL

Young Forger's Successful Campaign Is Nipped By Police.

John Sword, Jr., who resides near Ashton, has a malady for writing worthless checks and for many weeks has been conducting a very profitable campaign in Dixon. He also believes strongly in the old adage of robbing Peter to pay Paul. His habits have been curbed by action of Chief VanBibber and this morning Sword, who is but 19 years of age, was taken into the county court where he pleaded guilty to a charge of passing bogus checks and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail. Several weeks ago he opened his campaign in Franklin Grove, where he was successful in securing $35 at the Hussey elevator. He came to Dixon and entered the employ of the Sterling, Dixon & Eastern railway company as a motorman on the city line. While at his work, several worthless checks were circulated about town, the checks all being drawn on the two Ashton banks. Sword was warned by the police and promised to make good his shortages. In one instance he passed a worthless check for three dollars at a local restaurant and when he was notified of the fact, he passed another for five dollars at the John Merlo confectionery, paying up the three dollar obligation and having two dollars left.

Chief VanBibber had reports from seven different business houses in Dixon where Sword had passed worthless checks. Sunday morning about 1 o'clock when the chief was on his way home, he discovered Sword seated in the office of a local garage with a check book in his hand, writing a check to be offered in payment for gasoline. He confronted Sword, who admitted that he had no funds and he was then placed under arrest and taken to the police station. He was held until this morning when his case was disposed of in the county court before Judge Crabtree.

The police know of 14 checks that he has passed in Dixon and vicinity. About half of this number have been made good and others have received the checks back from one of the Ashton banks, announcing no funds on hand. The checks were drawn in amounts ranging from one to eight dollars.

TREATY BACK FOR VOTE IN U. S. SENATE

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—Consideration of the treaty of Versailles was resumed in the open senate today, republican and democratic leaders joining forces to bring it back for debate. The decision was reached without debate, the senate adopting overwhelmingly a motion by Senator Lodge, the republican leader, to reconsider the vote by which the treaty was laid aside last November.

Unanimous consent for the reconsideration has been refused by Senator Norris, republication, opposing ratification and on the roll call the irreconcilable group lined up in the negative.

Vote Was 63 to 9.

The vote on Senator Lodge's motion to suspend the rules so the treaty again could be considered was 63 to 9. Those voting against it, all republicans, were: Borah, Idaho; Brandegee, Connecticut; France, Maryland; Gronna, North Dakota; Knox, Pennsylvania; McCormick and Sherman, Illinois; Norris, Nebraska; and Poinsett, Washington.

As soon as the rules had been suspended a parliamentary scrap developed, Senator Norris making a point of order against Senator Lodge's motion to reconsider the vote by which ratification failed in November. The objection was overruled by Vice President Marshall whose decision was upheld by the senate by a vote of 62 to 10.

On this roll call the irreconcilables again voted in the negative, their strength being augmented by the vote of Senator Sutherland, republican, West Virginia.

The senate by acclamation then adopted Senator Lodge's motion of reconsideration, and with the treaty formally before the senate Vice President Marshall ruled that it had brought back with it the cloture imposed before the November vote.

Mrs. Carl Hegert and daughter, Elizabeth, were in Dixon Saturday from Amboy.

FEAR RACE WAR IN LEXINGTON: ORDER TROOPS

Negro Murderer of Little Girl Quarry of Big Mob.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Louisville, Ky., Feb. 9.—Reports received here by telephone during the forenoon said mobs then were looting pawnshops and hardware stores at Lexington in an effort to obtain firearms and had declared the intention of securing the negro by any means. On the heels of the report came an appeal from Governor Edwin P. Morrow for troops to protect the negro and quiet the situation.

Arrangements immediately were made at Camp Zachary Taylor to form two provisional battalions of 160 men each and sent them to Lexington. The troops were to be commanded by General F. C. Marshall and were to go by special train, if one could be secured. Lacking railroad facilities, it was said the troops would be sent by truck. Lexington is nearly 100 miles from Louisville.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Lexington, Ky., Feb. 9.—William Lockett, negro, was convicted of assault and murder of Geneva Hardman, 10 year old school girl and was sentenced to be electrocuted March 11. Several persons were wounded, some reported killed, when troops opened fire on a crowd. Fifty men stormed the court house door with a rope.

While hundreds of farmers from this and neighboring counties looked sullenly on, 300 armed militiamen from Latonia, Ky., escorted the negro from the railroad station to the Fayette county court house, where he was placed on trial for the murder. Fifty extra police and a sheriff's posse patrolled the streets to keep the crowd behind the ropes. No one was permitted to enter the court house without being searched for weapons.

Guard is Continued

Soldiers and policemen continued on guard near the court house following the shooting. Officials feared that another attempt might be made to lynch Lockett should the crowd discover his whereabouts. Trouble was feared by the authorities as soon as Lockett was captured and confessed to the assault and murder of the little Hardman girl last Tuesday. At first the prisoner was lodged in the state penitentiary at Frankfort.

When Lockett was indicted last week and it was decided to hold his trial here today approximately 500 state troops were ordered here to guard him.

Gather in Crowds

Early today hundreds of farmers from the surrounding country came to Lexington to attend the trial. They gathered in groups in the streets. The state troops closely guarded the streets when the negro was taken from a train and rushed to the court house. The prisoner was brought here early this morning from Frankfort on a special train.

Heavy wires and ropes had been stretched along the streets to prevent the crowds from charging the prisoner with his military escort. Long before the trial began the court house was crowded to capacity. No one was permitted to enter until he had been searched for weapons.

Four hundred troops from Camp Taylor, Ky., have been ordered to Lexington to prevent any further trouble and are now enroute here, officials announced. The additional troops were requested as it was feared that the 300 militiamen could not handle the situation.

MAIL TRAIN DELAYED.

The eastbound mail train No. 22 on the Northwestern was delayed about a half hour in Dixon this morning on account of a blazing hot box on one of the mail cars. The train was held here until the car could be set out on a side track to be picked up later in the day when the journal had sufficiently cooled. The Sterling passenger was delayed somewhat in waiting for the mail train to clear the east bound main line track.

Miss Mary Vall, cashier at the Elchler Bros. Beehive, is ill.

LABOR'S ENTRY IN POLITICAL GAME IS TOLD

Official Notice of A. F. of L. Stand is Sent Out.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—Organized labor's pronouncement of its entry into politics a call to "all lovers of freedom to marshal their forces in defense of their rights and ideals" and to trade unionists and their friends to unite in defeating those seeking office who are hostile or indifferent to the rights of labor, today was being sent broadcast over the country.

The declaration, issued officially by the American Federation of Labor, after reciting what it termed vain efforts to secure remedial and constructive legislation for the interest and welfare of the toilers, denounced congress for its "failure to do its duty and its repression of labor."

"Scorned by congress, ridiculed and misrepresented by many members of both houses," the announcement said, "the American labor movement finds it necessary to vigorously apply its long and well established non-partisan political policy. The American Federation of Labor announces its determination to apply every legitimate means and all of the power at its command to accomplish the defeat of labor's enemies who aspire for public office whether they be candidates for president, for congress, for state legislatures or any other office."

Begin Immediately. The appointment of a national non-partisan political committee which will mobilize the trade unionist movement was announced, and the campaign will be started immediately. The work will begin in the primaries and will be carried through to the general elections. Each aspirant for office, the announcement said, will have his record "analyzed" and those regarded as favorable to labor will be supported regardless of party affiliations while those antagonistic to the labor movement will be opposed.

The labor organization declaration was adopted at the conference of trade union representatives here in December. The conference was authorized at the last convention of the American Federation of Labor.

Farmers Will Not Join

Farmers organizations will not join the American Federation of Labor in its non-partisan campaign to elect this year only friends of the trades union movement, according to T. C. Atkeson, representative of the National Grange, which has 700,000 members.

Mr. Atkeson said today that his organization had decided not to support organized labor's political activities and pointed out that representatives of the Grange, National Farmers' Union, International Farm Congress, American Farm Bureau Federation, Farmers' National Congress, and National Milk Producers' Federation, recently met here and formulated a platform of principles, but decided that individual members should be allowed to exercise their right of personal preference in voting.

The program has been sent to every member of congress, Mr. Atkeson said, and it may be expected that farmers will observe the attitude of legislators on bills affecting their interests.

ARE BETTER.

Attorney Mark Keller and Mark Keller, Jr., are both reported as on the road to recovery from their recent illness.

Miss Tina Ortigleson, of Nelson, returned from Chicago after attending the funeral of J. B. Cowan, superintendent of the Galena Division of the Northwestern railroad.

ACTIVE MOVE FOR FREEDOM IS UNDER WAY

300 of Jap Garrison of 700 Killed By Invaders.

By Associated Press Leased Wire London, Eng., Feb. 9.—Northern Korea has been evacuated by the Japanese, it is claimed in a wireless despatch from Moscow today quoting an Omsk message. The population rose to aid Korean forces from Chinese territory, it is declared.

The Omsk message, as given in the Bolshevik wireless, says that on Feb. 6 bands of Koreans raised in Chinese territory, crossed the frontier and attacked the Japanese. Masses of the population are joining the insurgents, it is added, the Japanese retreating and evacuating Northern Korea.

300 OF 700 JAPS KILLED.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—Official dispatches received here today said a force of 2,000 Koreans, armed principally with equipment furnished by the Bolsheviks, crossed into northern Korea from Kirin, Manchuria, and attacked a Japanese post at 700 men at night, killed 300 of them and routed the remainder.

According to these dispatches the attack was the initiation of an active rebellion in Korea. It was described as "the beginning of a tremendous affair."

GERMANY WILL AWAIT ALLIES' REPLY TO NOTE

No Decision Regarding Demand for War Lords.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Berlin, Feb. 9.—The committee on foreign affairs of the National Assembly will meet today to consider the extradition question. It seems improbable that a reply to the entente demands for a reply to the Germans whose names are contained in the list recently delivered will be sent until a response is received by the German government to its note of January 25. (In this note Germany asked the Allies to renounce the execution of the extradition article of the peace treaty, affirming that it would inevitably cause political and economic troubles, the alternative proposed being a trial of the persons to be held in Germany with the participation of Allied representatives.)

The newspapers declare unanimously that the attitude of the government toward the extradition question is unchanged.

Soldiers' Demonstration.

The Association of German regular soldiers yesterday against acceptance of the extradition demand. Similar demonstrations were held in the provinces.

Decision as to whether the German National Assembly will be called to consider Germany's answer to the allied demand is expected soon. The cabinet met yesterday and considered the list of men whose surrender is desired and the allied covering note, which was delivered to Premier Bauer Saturday night by M. De Mareilly, charge d'affaires, but nothing was made public as to the conclusions reached.

In addition to the persons of Germans on the extradition list, the allied powers demand access to archives and possession of all German documentary evidence, so that prosecution may be facilitated. The covering note is understood to declare the allies do not purpose to grant amnesty to men not named in the list but will reserve the right to prosecute them, should they be apprehended on entente soil.

One Woman on List.

Miss Elsa Scheiner, the only woman whose name appeared on the list of Germans demanded by the allies, is a daughter of a prominent professor of Berlin University and had charge of the women's concentration camp at Valenciennes during the war.

The Neuwie Rotterdamse Courant, a copy of which has been received here, prints a letter from a contributor who asserts that Miss Scheiner incurred the enmity of allied women spies who were imprisoned at her camp.

Attorney H. A. Brooks transacted business in Dixon Saturday.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 9.—Although receipts of corn here today did not prove to be nearly as large as had been expected the market displayed unusual weakness. The fact that cars arriving loaded could not be utilized for shipments from Chicago but must be sent to the country for new supplies had a depressing effect on bulls. About the only demand was from shorts who were in a position to collect profits. Opening prices, which varied from ¼¢ to ¾¢ lower, with May 1.27 to 1.22½ and July 1.22½ to 1.24 were followed by slight rallies. Oats declined with corn. The market showed but little power to react after some declines.

Provisions were slightly stronger. Uplifts however, were more than offset by sympathy with grain weakness. Fresh breaks took place later, but the market recovered somewhat after recessing spread the decline. Prices closed nervous ¼¢ to ½¢ lower, with May 1.25½ to 1.25½ and July 1.22½ to 1.23½.

Mr. Wolfram was born in Milwaukee, Wis., April 27, 1892, moving to Portage with his parents a few years after death. He received his education in the public schools, graduated from a business college in Portage and then entered the University of Wisconsin, where he completed a course in agriculture. He is survived by his widow and three small children; his mother, Mrs. Mary Wolfram, of Portage, Wis., and seven brothers and one sister, all of whom reside in Wisconsin.

Fifty Members Signed for New Boosting Organization.

Promoters have announced that the Kiwanis club of Dixon will be organized at once and will become one of the large number of its kind already in existence all over the United States and Canada. Briefly the objects of the club, as stated in the standard by-laws, are:

To disseminate Kiwanian principles of fair dealing and practices and the observance of the Golden Rule in private, civic, social and business life.

To promote the spirit of fraternalism among Kiwanians.

To discuss and study the science of business building and to promote co-operation between its members in the development of the various lines they represent.

Co-Operate With C. C.

The Kiwanis clubs co-operate with Chambers of Commerce all over the country and the Dixon club will endeavor to serve in the interests of the local Chamber of Commerce in every way.

Mr. Bigelow, the representative of the Kiwanis Club International, has been here for some time and has signed over 50 members. He states that arrangements will be made at once for the first meeting and charter presentation by the Kiwanis International. This meeting will be attended not only by the Kiwanis International officials from Chicago, but also by representatives of clubs in Illinois. The club will meet every week, the time and place to be determined later.

Victor M. Johnson, of Rockford, is District Governor of Kiwanis Clubs for Illinois and eastern Iowa, and upon being advised that 50 members in Dixon were ready for organization, sent the following telegram to Mr. Bigelow:

"One hundred five of the biggest, strongest, liveliest, utmost red-blooded men in Rockford, Kiwanians, extend to our Kiwanian friends in Dixon a special welcome into the Kiwanian club. If you gain from this movement only a part of the wonderful benefit that it has been to each of us in Rockford and to the city as a whole, the new club will be a great personal and civic benefit to Dixon. Personally I am happy that your club has been completed and will look forward to meeting all of you personally very soon."

Letters to Winners.

Letters to be awarded to the members of the winning teams in the Junior "A" and "B" leagues have been received by Physical Director Kuhn and a sample is on display in the Physical Department. They are a full block 6 inch letter "Y" blue in color and will show off nicely on a white gym shirt.

IN JUNIOR LEAGUE.

Standings of the teams:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Kangaroos	2	0	1.000
Wienies	2	0	1.000
Bullfrogs	0	2	.000
Cooties	0	2	.000

The Kangaroos and Wienies won again in the Junior "A" basketball tournament Saturday morning. The first game, between the Kangaroos and Bullfrogs, was one-sided and although the Bullfrogs made desperate efforts the Kangaroos with their larger hops were too much for them, the score being 11-0.

The second game was a much closer contest, the Wienies winning 8-6. At the start it looked as though the Cooties had been thru the delouser as three of the players, including the captain, were absent sick, but when the game got going good they sure had the Wienies scratching at times.

The teams lined up:
Kangaroos—Sagner, captain; Bok-hof, Slothower, D. Burd, Ashenbren-ner, Beebe, Henley.
Bullfrogs—Baker, captain; Lett, S. Burd, Emerson.
Shepard, referee. Woltz, scorer.

FIRKINS-SCHRECK—

Last Wednesday, Jan. 28th, at the hour of eleven, and at the home of the Rev. Omer T. Canfield in St. Charles, Ill., Miss Lela Kathryn Schreck and McKimley Firkins, of Paw Paw.

The bride is an alumnus of the Paw Paw High school, and pursued a music course for a considerable time. Since her graduation she has remained in Paw Paw.

The groom is the second son of the late C. S. Firkins. He received his education in the Paw Paw High school and DeKalb Normal after which he worked on the large home place near Rollo on the Chicago road.

After the ceremony the couple left for Chicago for a brief stay. After spending a few days there they will go to Ames, Ia., for a short stay with Prof. Bruce Firkins, of that city. The couple will in time, move to a farm two miles north of Shabbona, recently purchased, where they will begin what promises to be a prosperous married career.

PAW PAW COUPLE MARRIED—

Morrison Sentinel: William Clinton Lawrence, a farmer and stock feeder from Shabbona Grove, Ill., and Miss Jessie M. Mortimer, a young lady of Paw Paw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mortimer, came here Wednesday. They were directed to the home of their former pastor, Rev. A. B. Wimmer, where they were married that afternoon at 2 o'clock. They left here for Chicago from which place they will return to Paw Paw, where they will make their home on the John Harper farm. They are prominent young people, well known in and around Paw Paw, both being active workers in the First Baptist church of that place.

REYNOLDS-BENSON—

Paw Paw Times: Wednesday morning, Jan. 28th, Mr. Guy A. Reynolds and Miss Emma Benson were united in marriage at the Congregational parsonage at Rollo. The ring service was used, their pastor, Rev. H. L. Hartwell officiating.

The couple were attended by the bride's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Benson.

The bride was gowned in brown silk. Their wedding trip of a few days is being spent in Chicago.

Those desiring the service should call No. 515 between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon or No. 79. The serving of soup is not regarded as a charity but simply as extending a helping hand to those not able to prepare their own food at this time.

D. A. R. MEETING—

Sickness and difficulty in getting about curtailed the attendance at the D. A. R. meeting, held at the home of Mrs. A. N. Nichols, Saturday, but withal it was a very interesting meeting. An invitation was extended by Dr. Lumsden to the members of the chapter to attend the patriotic service at the Methodist church on Feb. 22nd and this was made public. Other business included the election of delegates to the Continental Congress. Two delegates were chosen, Mrs. Collins Dysart and Mrs. Judd, and six alternates, Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Nichols, Miss Woodbridge, Miss Pratt, Miss Pankhurst, and Mrs. Winn. Miss Woodbridge gave the paper of the afternoon on the "Polyglot Boarding House," the conditions of its patrons and their surroundings and their employers, leading up to the subject of "Americanization." The paper was most interestingly developed.

DIXON WOMAN'S CLUB—

Mrs. Harry L. Emmerson opened her home kindly on Saturday afternoon, the second time within the month, to the members of the Dixon Woman's club. The Council rooms, where the meetings have been held, are not well warmed and hence the use of private homes for the meetings. A business meeting and board meeting preceded the program, a round table of "best recipes," given under the direction of the Household Economics Department, with the chairman of the department, Mrs. O. L. Baird, presiding. Several very delightful musical numbers preceded the round table.

Miss Dorothy Raymond gave a piano selection, "The Witches' Dance," by MacDowell and responded to appreciative applause with a second number. Two charming vocal numbers were given by Miss Dorothy Gullion, Tosti's "Good-bye," and as an encore, "Little Pink Rose," by Carries Jacobs Bond.

During the business session the club voted to give $25 this year to the Park Ridge School for Dependent Girls. The school is thirteen miles from Chicago and is for the care of girls who have no one to depend upon. It is to be understood it is not for those with criminal tendencies. In 1905 the Federated Clubs of Illinois erected a cottage to house a number of girls at the school—the home system is used—at a cost of $10,000, thus giving sixteen more Illinois girls an opportunity to attend the school which will take all applicants when there is housing for them. Now the women's club of Illinois included in the federation are supposed to do all in their power to assist in the upkeep of the club.

Mrs. John Kennedy and Mrs. Emmerson, the hostesses for the afternoon, served most delicious refreshments.

NEIGHBORHOOD WAS ASTONISHED

Whole Country Side is Amazed When Mrs. McMullen is Restored to Health.

"My friends are amazed and the whole neighborhood is astonished at my wonderful recovery from twenty-four years of troubles since I have taken Tanlac," was the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. R. McMullen who lives out on Route No. 5, Peoria, Ill., when she called at Sutcliffe & Case's drug store in Peoria. "When I began taking Tanlac" she continued, "I was facing a serious operation and had given up all hope of ever seeing another well day. I had stomach trouble bad enough to almost kill me, my. I just hate to think of the way those awful cramping pains used to double me up. I had to force myself to eat a little something to keep alive but every time I did I would be in agony for hours. Terrible pains would strike me around the heart and at times I would have headaches so bad I would nearly go into spasm, and I would be so completely exhausted after one of these spells that I could hardly raise my head up from the pillow. Sometimes I had to remain in bed a day or two until I could get strength enough to get up. I went on suffering this way for years and years never knowing what a well day meant or what it was to enjoy a meal and eating hardly a thing but soup. I could not think of doing my work, was not able to even get off the place and I thought I was doing fine to stay out of bed. "I had about given up in despair when one day, just before an operation was to be performed, my husband came in with a bottle of Tanlac and began to insist so that I decided to take it. Well, you can imagine how overjoyed I was when I started to feel better, and that gave me so much encouragement that I kept right on taking it until now, the sensation of the whole neighborhood and surrounding country is the way I have been restored to complete health after twenty-four years of suffering. I eat anything I want and as much as I want without ever having a touch of indigestion. I never have a pain in my stomach or around my heart. I don't have a sign of a headache and I sleep like a child and get up just feeling simply fine. I have been built up in every way, am stronger than I have been in years. I owe it all to Tanlac and my only regret is that I will never be able to praise it enough."

TANLAC is sold in Dixon by Public Drug & Book Co., in Compton by W. N. Hills, in Franklin Grove by Geo. S. Ives, in Amboy by C. Aschenbrenner Pharmacy, in Ashton by G. R. Charters & Son.

BREAKFAST—Cooked cereal, toast, orange marmalade, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Toad in the hole, pickles, ginger drops, tea.
DINNER—Baked mackerel, scalloped potatoes, cabbage and peanut salad, bachelor pudding, coffee.

My Own Recipes
From an old English cook book comes the recipe for "Toad in the Hole." The name appeals to the imagination and when the dish is served there is nothing to be desired in the way of palatableness. As our cooks differ in the north, south and west, so the cooks of the different countries do things in different ways. Perhaps no other country has been so lavish in the use of foodstuffs as this one of ours, and by borrowing ideas and recipes we may be able to learn and profit.

TOAD IN THE HOLE
1 cup flour
1 cup milk
1 egg
1/2 pound sausage or cooked meat
Salt and pepper
Mix flour, salt and pepper. Beat egg and pour into the center of the flour stirring out. Gradually add the milk. Beat the batter till smooth. Add the rest of the milk. If sausage is used, skin and cut in half lengthwise. If cooked meat is used cut it into inch squares. Put the meat in a greased pie dish or shallow casserole, pour over the batter and bake about three-quarters of an hour.

GINGER DROPS

The Stage

WINNING PLAYERS TONIGHT

No traveling organization of recent years has attained such a remarkable hold on the theatre goers of the middle-west as the Winning Players under the management of John D. Winninger, and this city is no exception for, when the name Winning Players is flashed on the screen, in the newspaper or on the billboards a goody per cent immediately call the box office to book seats for part or the entire engagement of this inimitable company. It will be gratifying news to the theatre-goers of this city to know that the famous Winning Players are booked for a week's engagement at the Dixon opera house, commencing tonight.

From reports received from other cities John D. Winninger has a net and carries an equipment of scenery that will give a Broadway atmosphere to all plays presented, and his coterie of clever specialists is said to be superior in many respects to the acts seen in the regular vaudeville theatres.

The staple crop of China is said to be sweet potatoes. There is no part which does not raise them.

ILLINOIS WOMEN FROM GIRLHOOD TO MIDDLE LIFE

S. Freeport, Ill.:—"When I reached middle life became run-down and in need of a tonic. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription surely proved to be all that is claimed for it and I came through this critical time with none of the distressing ailments which affect so many women, such as 'heat flashes' and dizzy spells, but was so strong and well that I could scarcely believe it myself. I certainly would recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all women of middle age."—Mrs. L. KITCHEN.

Rock Island, Ill.:—"In my girlhood days I suffered from irregularity and would become run-down in health and my mother would give me 'Favorite Prescription' whenever she saw that I needed a special tonic. At one time when I was suffering during development she gave me a complete course of treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I still remember that these medicines restored me to perfect health, making me feel better in every way. I have since married and am mother of three children."—Mrs. E. L. MARTIN, 4327 Seventh Ave.

Elgin, Ill.:—"As a household remedy for sluggish liver, sick headache and constipation, I have found Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to give the utmost satisfaction. I could scarcely 'keep house' without them. I believe they have saved me many a doctor bill, and serious illness."—Mrs. CORA M. PECK, 705 Ludlow Place.

PAYING FOR GOODS
A big American motor truck corporation desired to sell $100,000 worth of trucks in Germany. However, the German mark is worth so little in international exchange that a truck would be too expensive in Germany.
In marks, nobody would pay the price for the American machine. To surmount the exchange situation, the American truck company looked around for a deal by which it could afterwards sell in America for $100,- 000.

First, the company discovered a New Zealand trader en route to Germany to buy for his home market $100,000 worth of dyes.
This trader will take over to Germany with him the $100,000 worth of motor trucks and exchange them for dyes.

But the American motor company doesn't want the dyes—the good old U. S. makes its own—and anyway the trader's job was to take that hundred thousands worth of dyes back to New Zealand. But New Zealand grows wool and wool is in great demand in America. So, the New Zealander, who hasn't yet paid a cent himself for the dyes, takes the dyes home and arriving there he pays (or will pay) for them in $100,000 worth of wool which he ships to the American truck company, which will sell it in the open market in this country for $100,000. In this way it collects the money for the trucks it shipped to Germany.

FINE THREADS.
It was Tolstoy who told the story of the man who went to a spinner to buy some fine threads. But the threads the spinner showed him were not fine enough for him.

"The spinner said: 'If these are not fine enough for you, then here are some others that will suit you.'

"And she pointed to a bare spot. The man declared he could not see them.

"The spinner replied: 'The fact that you cannot see them proves that they are very fine; I can't see them myself.'

"The fool was rejoiced, and ordered some more of the same thread and paid down the money for it."

The story might be a satire on the extravagance of the present times. Flush folks demand the finest of everything. They scorn cotton and call for silk. The moderate-priced article is rejected with suspicion because it doesn't cost enough.

The unnecessary things they buy are as futile in their uselessness as the invisible threads which, very likely, the vain and foolish man attempted to spin into something equivalent to a $20 silk shirt.

Please read the story once more and think it over.

GETTING 'EM UP.

This country's greatest advance, perhaps, has just been scored in a new solution of the problem of how to wake people up in the morning.

"A man's job ought to get him out of bed
on time," was the crude formula, of course, of the early days.

Then came the alarm clock, with its "continuous" and "intermittent" attachments.

The next step forward was the use of the telephone, which central kindly jangled, on request at any hour.

Now comes an ultra-modern new hotel in New York with the ultimate.

In each sleeping room will be installed an automatic electric clock.

The guest will set the clock for the time
he desires to arise.

In the morning, at the psychological moment, the guest will be stirred from his slumbers by the notes of soft musical chimes, which can be shut off merely by pressing a button.

Truly, the inventive genius is spreading the pathway of life with roses!

ANT AND MAN.

Watch the ant at work. He has his world, his problems as we have.

How far does his world extend? How far into his environment does his power of perception penetrate? He doesn't know you are near. Your immensity is beyond his comprehension.

On the other side of the hill, a stone's throw away, is another ant hill. The creature under your observation does not know it exists. He will complete the span of his brief life without ever learning what is beyond the little sphere of his activities.

How like the ant are humans! What wonderfully immense things there may be in the universe of which humans cannot conceive any more than the ant can conceive of the human sphere. There may be even a race of beings as high above man as man is above the ant.

THE INWARDLY RAGING.

A dispatch from Washington provides the reader with the interesting news that "Democratic administration and organization leaders are in a rage over Bryan's dictatorial attitude and his attempt to dethrone the President as party leader, but all are careful to remain silent because they know his power."
This is our idea of zero in indignation.
What does it avail a man to grow hot under the collar if fear compels him to smile sweetly as if all were well in this best of all possible worlds.

If Japan doesn't stop grabbing territory
other nations desire, they will soon find it necessary to make the world safe for democracy again.

Mexico is suffering from a shortage of small change. We might give her some of ours. It isn't worth anything in this country.

In short, the Treaty of London said: "If you will help me lick Smith I'll shut my eyes
while you steal his boy's dog."

The Czechs have provided for a standing army of 200,000 as a delicate way of showing their faith in the League.

It is easy to understand why Europe is broke after you learn how much outlawed American booze she bought.

Those who think England is about on the rocks because the pound is worth less and less should reflect that the dollar is in the same fix.

What we can't understand is why that Dr.
Davis who pulled the kaiser's teeth hasn't announced for the presidency.

JUST JOKING

A BOX OF METHOD

It was the week before little Willie's birthday and he was on his knees at his bedside petitioning Divine Providence for presents in a very loud voice.

"Please send me," he shouted, "a bicycle, a tool chest, a—"

"What are you praying so loud for?" his younger brother interrupted. "God ain't deaf."

"I know he ain't," said little Willie, winking toward the next room, "but grandma it!"—London Opinion.

OH, MY, NO!

"Let us preserve our traditions at all costs!" cried
the orator.

"But not in alcohol," interposed the prohibitionist.

COUNTRY SNOW.

Out in the country where the snow is white
It brings a benison to bless the sight.
Here is a stretch of what was weeded waste
Now robed in softness, exquisitely laced;
Here is fresh napery spread across a field
Preparing for its feast of summer yield;
Here is a wood with every finger pearly;
Here is a royal-robed and ermined world
Bearing to every eye a chaste delight.
Ruling the day and banishing the night.
Out in the country where the snow is white,

I had been city-bound a grievous time
And morning snow had turned to evening grime,
Until I had forgot that whited calm Soothing the far horizon, like a balm.
From a far chimney, like a ghost at dawn,
A wreath of smoke gropes out and straight is gone.
No sound nor color mars the quietude,
As if all nature, in a musing mood,
Were dreaming of our loved and loving dead,
With God's white coverlet above them spread,
Like sleeping children tucked within one bed.

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

The train pulled out. My husband was off to rescue my rival. I survived the ordeal of the departure with a brave smile, but it changed to a bitter smile when I thought that, the ordal being over, there was no hurt left in life which I could not survive.

Jimmy-boy took my arm and suggested that we walk back to the hotel. Jim has acquired a most understanding heart since he entered the air service.
He is quieter than he used to be, and seems almost too old for the boy he really is, in years. The change, I suppose, is due to flying, almost daily, he gambles with death.

Jim had the sense not to touch upon the tension between Bob and me.
And although my heart was breaking, although I would have revealed in an unlimited amount of sympathy, I didn't refer to my differences with my husband.

The first rule of my own little code for wives is that they must never discuss a husband's shortcomings, not even with relatives. The corollary is,
I suppose, that they must never listen to the complaints other women make about their husbands!

Jim rather over-pretended in his little effort to comfort me. He propesied a speedy return of the search-party after a successful adventure!

I believed in the success rather than in the speed of the expedition. I jealously pictured a prolonged picnic jaunt—a delightful camping party on the Lorimer property after the rescue! It might last a month—and how Katherine Miller would enjoy it! And it wasn't fair—the men were not fair—they had been shocked at the idea that I wanted to go along!

"Jimmy-boy! Let's fly down that way," I pleaded.

"Cut the teasing, Jane," commanded my brother-in-law. "I told you once, my dear, that absolutely I wouldn't take that bus over the mountains. But I'll take you up—tomorrow—for your first flying lesson, Sissy!" Jim went on to explain that he had scraped Texas over for mechanics and that he had collected a bunch. Most of the men had been employed on government aviation fields. They were experts and corksling fellows, too. One had been a "flying sergeant." He must see "Serg" at once and set the hour for my lesson next day. The bus had once had a dual control system. Undoubtedly "Serg" could supply an extra joy-stick.

I suggested that Jim leave me at a souvenir shop about a block from the hotel. I wanted to buy a toy for Babo. But new toys are hard to find for a child who has as many as Babo own. When at last I left the shop with my package, it was dark. Though I had but a block to walk, though there was quite a crowd in the street, I felt afraid.

By some strange sense, I realized that I was being trailed. I felt rather than saw that a half-breed was following only a step behind me. I had seen the man hanging around the station. I clutched my purse supposing that it was what he wanted. I ran my arm through the long leather handia and twisted the strap between my fingers. I was determined not to lose the bag.
It contained the notes Katherine Miller had written to Bob.

"Senora!" said the Indian in my ear. He spoke softly, but I jumped and turned a very scared face toward him. As if to reassure me, the man murmured, "Meese Lorimer!" Then he pushed a piece of paper into my hand and drifted away with the passing crowd!

I hurried into the lighted lobby of the hotel, gave the soiled envelopé a single glance, and knew that in spite of my decision to have done forever with adventure, a new episode, perhaps one involving great danger—was beckoning to me.

Never can I forget my emotions as I ran up to my room to tear the contents from that note!

It was written in the peculiar and elegant back-hand of Katherine Miller!

THE LOST-KNEE.

"Please, what are you?" asked Nancy one day as a curious little object passed the little house in which she and Nick were living in The Land of Lost Things while they were looking for Jocko.

"Why, I'm a Lost-Knee," said the queer little ragged black thing that looked awfully much like a patch.

"Won't you come up and sit down?" invited Nancy, more curious than ever. She and Nick were waiting for the magical mushroom and the green shoes to decide what adventure they should have next, and this was a good way to put in the time. She pushed up a little chair and the Lost-Knee sat down.

"Yes, it said, 'I'm just waiting for my partner to come and I'm pretty lonely. We knees always go in pairs.'"

"You don't look a bit like a knee," said Nick.

"Oh, I'm not a real knee," corrected their visitor. "I'm a stocking knee,

"It's very hard to understand," declared Nancy in a puzzled voice.
"That's natural," said the Lost-Knee. "Children don't think much about knees, but mothers do. I'm sure Billy's mama would recognize me. Just about this minute she is probably darning the big hole I made when I left and saying, 'What does become of the pieces that leave such big holes in stockings?' When you go back home you might tell her if you see her that we all come here to The Land of Lost Things."

Nick looked down at his own knees. Two big darns!

"I think I'll be going now," said the Lost-Knee. "Perhaps my partner has come. Why, there he is over there now!"

"Poor Billy!" said Nick. "I wonder if he got hurt!"

EARTH'S CRUST STUDIED BY SCIENTISTS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—It cost the Geophysical Laboratory of the Carnegie Institution $200,000 to conduct experiments in developing a process for manufacturing optical glass and optical instruments, but without this contribution the World War might have been indefinitely prolonged and today America would have to rely on Germany as a source of supply.

Range finders, musket sights, battery commander telescopes, aiming circles, panoramic sights, field glasses, microscopes, anti-aircraft sights, and sight for indirect fire control were among several hundred types of optical instruments demanded by the experiences of war. The optical industry had to be transferred from Jena, Germany, to five plants located in Inchester, Hoboken, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and Charleroi, Pa. Co-operating with the Bureau of Standards, Army, Navy and the manufacturers the Geophysical Laboratory assigned its corps of scientists in producing optical glass at high temperatures. Thanks to its efforts, another industry has been freed from the Dominion of foreign countries.

The Geophysical Laboratory is situated three and one-half miles from the White House. The building and equipment were established in 1907 at a cost of $150,000. The apparatus is especially inviting for investigations in minerals and rocks, the equipment adaptable to the study of materials subject to high temperatures and high pressures as obtain in the formation of rocks and minerals in the earth's crust. Curiously built—is this laboratory, the home of 21 scientists—the foundation and walls of the structure being diverged by a trench of sand, thus eliminating all vibration. The building is fireproof, and the partition walls are built up chiefly of flues or conducts.

Formulating its own program of performance, the Geophysical Laboratory works for the most part in cooperation with scientific and geological societies. Being a private in-situation, the public cannot command its facilities at will or transmit its problems for solution as in the case of the Bureau of Standards.

Not unlike the allied institutions of which the late Andrew Carnegie was the founder, the Geophysical Laboratory proclaims its object, "to encourage in the broadest and most liberal manner investigation, research and discovery, and the application of knowledge to the improvement of mankind." The laboratory is prolific in fathering innumerable scientific treatises and publications—some several hundred articles having appeared in representative American and foreign journals.

my throat. It interferes with my singing. My nose is always stopped up. What shall I do?

A.—You appear to be suffering from chronic nasal catarrh, and should by all means consult a good nose and throat specialist in order to get at the source of the trouble. In these cases much can often be accomplished by proper local treatment.

Q.—Must a person who works hard eat meat, or is it possible to maintain health and strength without meat?

A.—Meat is not necessary, but it is one of the most convenient sources of protein, a food constituent which is indispensable for the maintenance of life. Other convenient sources of protein are milk, cheese, eggs and wheat.
Most persons, however, prefer meat
as part of their diet.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

THE ACCIDENT.

CHAPTER 55.
No one answered my question for a moment, all their attention was given Robert. Then as they reached the vestibule, one of the men assisting him said:

"He was hit by a car. I don't think he is badly hurt, but his leg may be broken."

"I don't think it is, Gerry," Robert said faintly. He was deathly white and seemed about to faint.

I fumbled in my purse for my key and rang the bell at the same time. Mrs. Lane opened the door before I found the key, and her exclamations of distress brought other boarders to their doors to see what was going on.

The men helped get Robert to our room, then left. I telephoned for a doctor, and then with Mrs. Lane's help got him undressed and in bed.

"He is not dangerously injured, there are no bones broken. The injury to his chest is the most serious. His leg is badly sprained, but not broken."

"Then he won't die?" I was a bit hysterical as I asked the question.

"No, he is in no danger—not unless something further develops."

"I am sorry, Gerry," Robert said after the doctor left.

"Sorry for what, Dear?"

"Sorry that I have to stop work, and that I have made you all this trouble."

"Nonsense! you didn't run over yourself, did you?"

"No—but—"

"Now stop worrying and don't think about work. We shan't starve, you know."

"No—thank God!" Then: "It's the first time I have been really glad you were a business woman, Gerry. Now no matter how this turns out, you won't suffer."

"Of course you are glad I am a business woman instead of a helpless butterfly. When you feel able I want you to tell me how it happened."

"Oh, I was careless I guess! I was blue and so was on my way to a show instead of coming home and finishing myself upon you. I was thinking about—oh, what difference does it make!" he spoke impatiently, a twinge of pain crossed his face as he added:

"The thing hit me, and went on. I guess they thought they had done for me—pitied they hadn't!" he added, after a moment. "Then those two men came along and brought me home—that's all!"—he said it so wearily that I lowered the light and told him he mustn't talk any more.

I sat by his side holding his hand. His eyes were closed, but I knew he was not sleeping. The doctor had given him something for the pain in his chest, and had bandaged his leg. I left sure it was his unhappy thoughts which caused him to frown occasionally, rather than his pain. So I said nothing, but silently watched him, and wondered why he had been so depressed that he would not come home and where he had been until after 8 o'clock—the time he had been injured.

I called up the shop the next morning and told Madame of Robert's accident, and said I would not be down for two or three days—not until he was really comfortable.

"Don't stay away longer than positively necessary," she said after expressing her sorrow and sending a kind message to Robert. "Get a nurse—I can't spare you just now. I will pay someone if Mr. Meredith cannot be left."

I thanked her, but told her it would not be necessary. Then I asked to speak to Mary Ryan.

"Do come and cheer him up," I said after telling her also that I could not come to work, and why.

That night, after dinner, Mary came. She joked and laughed with Robert for a little while, then rose to go.

"Come down to the door with me, Gerry," she said, and gave me a look which said plainly: "I have something to say to you."

Tomorrow—Another Warning—And an Invitation.

"No—but—"

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels.

Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

Head Off That Cold Right in the Beginning With

Camptho Quinine

The time to take something for a cold is not when it begins to get bad—but right in the beginning, before it really gets well started.

The smart thing to do is always to have on hand a box of Dr. Gordon's Camptho Quinine. This is just the time of year when a cold is apt to come at the least provocation, unexpectedly and without warning.

Don't wait for the cold—anticipate it. Be prepared in advance so that you can act quickly at the first sign of one. For only 23c you can get a box of Camptho Quinine today from any of the following druggists.

Be sure to do it today—right now, before you forget it.
